The umbrella man

Just then a man came up to us. He was a small man and pretty old, probably seventy or more. He had a fine white moustache and bushy white eyebrows and a wrinkly pink face. I wonder if I could ask a small favour of you. I saw my mother looking at him suspiciously. She is especially suspicious of two things: strange men and boiled eggs. With strange men she has a golden rule which says: "the nicer the man seems to be, the more suspicious you must become." (89 words)
