1. That's what you need, Jenny. Someone on the inside track. It's not always what you know, is it, David?

2. Too true. And Clive would love Jenny. Have you ever come across Clive Lewis?

3. Dad has never come across anyone.

2. I just thought he might know some of his books.

3. Dad has never read any books.

1. What's he written?

2. He wrote a children's book called 'The Lion, The Witch and The Wardrobe' that did very well, I believe.

4. CS Lewis? That's the Clive you're talking about?

2. Well, to us he was just the old codger who taught Medieval literature. But I came to know him very well. We just got along, do you know what I mean?

4. Jenny used to love those books.

2. Gosh. That dates me. He was writing them when I was there.

3. I'd love to meet him.
